

It Sometimes Rains

It is easy sailing in fair weather. With a fair income anyone can get along for the present happy-go-lucky, letting tomorrow take care of itself. But the day may come when the income stops, or sickness or death absorbs it. What then? Then there's old age. Are you smart enough to overcome that? Isn't it up to you to stop and think about the "rainy day?" Sometimes it rains, sometimes it pours. The time will come when you will need an umbrella. You can't always get out of the wet. Right then your best umbrella will consist of a stiff upper lip and a bank account. Better start now.

SOCIETY

W. C. T. U.

Mrs. W. H. Johnson was hostess of a pleasant meeting of the W. C. T. U. Wednesday afternoon. An instructive program along the line of Christian Citizenship had been arranged by Mrs. J. F. Neely, superintendent of that department.

At the conclusion of the program a delicious ice course and fruit were served by the hostess. Mrs. Johnson was assisted by her sister, Mrs. Ben H. Jamison, and Miss Gertie Sedberry.

Delta Theta Epsilon

One of the most enjoyable of summer parties was given by Miss Olive Wright to the members of the Delta Theta Epsilon Club and a number of additional guests on last Thursday evening.

The beautiful Wright lawn was decorated with Japanese lanterns and upon the arrival of the guests a delicious orange frappe was dispensed by Miss Louise McCall from an attractive table on the veranda.

The honors in the interesting contest on "Music" were won by Miss Ernestine Norman of the club members, and Miss Addie Neely Murray of the visitors. Miss Norman receiving a pair of lovely silk hose and Miss Murray a bottle of exquisite toilet water.

The dining room presented a scene of rare beauty, the table with its covers of Irish crochet and central ornament of maiden-hair fern, studded with pink hydrangeas, was one of the prettiest seen this season. Ropes of pink ribbon, entwined with smilax, were suspended from the chandelier and terminated with large bows at the four corners of the table. Mrs. Peeler served the two-course menu, which feature emphasized the color scheme of pink and green used in the table appointments.

The hostess, who wore an imported lace gown over pink satin, was assisted in entertaining by her mother, Mrs. W. M. Wright, and Mesdames Neill Wright, Eugene Freeman and Lonnie Vawter. Miss Christine Priest presided at the piano during the entire evening.

His wounds, while very painful, were not serious as at first thought to be, and it is believed he will be out soon. The preliminary trial was set for last Monday, but Mr. Leach was not able to attend and it was continued until next Monday. Smith is being held at Paris on account of there being no jail in Huntingdon.

First Load Cotton

Don't Suffer!

"I had been troubled, a little, for nearly 7 years," writes Mrs. L. Fincher, in a letter from Peavy, Ala., "but I was not taken down, until March, when I went to bed and had to have a doctor. He did all he could for me, but I got no better. I hurt all over, and I could not rest. At last, I tried Cardui, and soon I began to improve. Now I am in very good health, and able to do all my housework."

TAKE The CARDUI Woman's Tonic

You may wonder why Cardui is so successful, after other remedies have failed. The answer is that Cardui is successful, because it is composed of scientific ingredients, that act curatively on the womanly system. It is a medicine for women, and for women only. It builds, strengthens, and restores weak and ailing women, to health and happiness.

If you suffer like Mrs. Fincher did, take Cardui. It will surely do for you, what it did for her. At all druggists.
